Junior Leader Volunteers

Assist the facilitators with the activities and service projects
Improve their skills in working one on one with students on the problem solving models and mentoring

Problems to be solved:

- Lack of English proficiency and confidence in speaking the language.
- Lack of mentors for the children.

- The children are unable to solve their own problems.
- The children lack the knowledge and experiences that will show them that they can make a difference in their community.

Short and long term goals:

All goals are directly related to the leadership skills ALA teaches to become a well-rounded individual.

- Improving comprehension of the students in English
- Giving the students the ability to teach and mentor other students
- Service projects that benefit the Fred Young Camp Community
- Teach the students to team with outside organizations and businesses
- Give the Camp children more of a leadership role at YLC
- Get the parents involved in the programs and activities
- Teach the children the problem solving model and how to find their own solutions for problems at home, school and in their community.

Potential Community Partners:

- The Coachella Valley Housing Coalition
- The Home Depot
- Agencies involved in the Indio Youth Task Force
- The Indio Teen Center
- The City of Indio
- The Indio Woman's Club

Angelic Partners:

- Michael – for safety and security at the camp in general
- Raphael – assisting with the physical, emotional, mental and spiritual healing of the children and their families
- Ariel – for building trusting relationships between the children and the facilitators, families and community
- Gabriel – for the facilitator's higher purpose and the children's communication
- Uriel – to modulate the energy needed to accomplish the goals
